HOMESTEAD VALLEY CARE PACKAGES ARRIVE IN AFGHANISTAN

After a great effort from the Homestead Valley Community Council, care packages have arrived in Afghanistan for our local marines and sailors. Managing Editor Karl Gardner says they completed a long journey. Pictures of our troops and their care packages can be seen at kcdzfm.com...

The goods are on deck and in good hands. In just over a month ago, the Homestead Valley Community Council embarked on an ambitious project, collect donations, buy, and mail care packages to the Marine and Sailors of VMU-1, an unmanned aerial vehicle squadron from the Twentynine Palms Marine Base, deployed to Afghanistan. The 60 boxes of comfort items reached the men and women of VMU-1, after a journey half way around the globe. VMU-1 Family Readiness Officer

Rachel Sandlin said the Marines and Sailors were overjoyed and very thankful. The HVCC collected over $2000 in donations to purchase and mail the care package.
